

GeoPower EUROPE

Regulation, finance & investment in Europe's new geothermal markets

7-8 December 2010
Paris, France

Organised in co-operation with the European Geothermal Energy Council, the 2009 meeting welcomed over 100 attendees from 24 countries. As Europe's first conference dedicated to the business behind geothermal energy don't miss the opportunity to meet with the full European geothermal energy value chain once again.

“Nice organisation, big attendance, high quality presentations, big business networking”

- EGEN

“The conference was indeed excellent, successful and supportive”

- Croatian Energy Regulatory Agency

GeoPower AMERICAS

Exploration and investment opportunities in North, Central & South America

15-16 February 2011
San Francisco, USA

Focussing not only on the US market but also opportunities in South and Central America, GeoPower Americas has welcomed over 200 key professionals from the geothermal energy sector. Entering its 3rd year, San Francisco is the annual meeting place for all geothermal professionals active in the American market place.

“All the major players of the geothermal industry were in attendance and the calibre of speakers was very high”

- National Oilwell Varco

“I can honestly say, without hesitation, that my attendance at the conference could be the single deciding factor that will ultimately put my company on the map”

- Universal GeoPower

GeoPower AUSTRALIA & ASIA-PACIFIC

Policy, investment & project development throughout Australia & Asia-Pacific

28-29 September 2010
Melbourne, Australia

Looking at the huge potential for geothermal energy production held by Asia, Australia, New Zealand & the rest of the Pacific, the congress will bring together all these key markets in a true business forum. Examine regulations, investment opportunities, technology advances, business strategies and project development and learn how to stay ahead in this competitive market place.

Who will you meet?

The GeoPower series of events has been attended by over 300 industry professionals from across the globe and the full geothermal value chain.

- Policy makers
- Project developers
- Utilities
- Investors
- Insurers
- Drilling contractors
- Turbine manufacturers
- Construction contractors
- Equipment suppliers
- Law firms
- Consultants

A very warm welcome to our 2nd Annual GeoPower Americas event in San Francisco!

Thank you for your support at our fast growing GeoPower series, and I wish you an enjoyable experience with GreenPower conferences.

Having welcomed over 300 geothermal professionals to both Europe and the US, I'm excited to be let you know that in September this year we will be hosting a GeoPower congress in Melbourne to look at investment and project development opportunities in Australia and throughout Asia-Pacific. With the huge geothermal potential held by the region, an increasing presence from professionals from such countries at meetings and the strong request from all stakeholders to focus in on this exciting market place, the Melbourne meeting looks sure to attract a lot of attention!

We will of course be working once again alongside the European Geothermal Energy Council to organise GeoPower Europe in December. After a very successful & packed 2009 event in Munich we will be on the move to Paris so I hope to see many of you there this year.

Past clients (including those on this page) are very important to us, so please let me know if you have interest in being involved in any of our GeoPower series events, and I will be sure to put together a competitive tailored package to suit your needs, from sponsored speaking positions to exhibition stands.

Once again I wish you a successful, enjoyable experience, and please let any of my team in San Francisco know if you have any questions at all

Kindest regards
